

Harry Reid

Besides Arlen Specter and Kay Bailey Hutchison who have already both taken money from Goldman Sachs, can you name me one other Republican that will be willing to sell out their voters, and vote with us for the Bailout Bill?

Barack Obama

I told you not to worry. Kay Granger is definitely going to vote with me on this Bailout Bill (HR 1424). Trust me, the people in her district will never remember. With Granger calling herself a “Republican” who needs Democrats. She has even taken money from The American Bankers Association, Morgan Stanley, and The Podesta Group so she will vote with us. As a matter of fact Kay Granger knows how to collect campaign money as well as any of us.

Nancy Pelosi

Kay Granger might. She takes campaign money from large banks, and the Ultra Liberal Podesta Group, and from what I can tell she is more of a Democrat than a Republican. She also voted with us on HR 3722. That was the bill that we defeated with Kay Granger’s vote, that would have required notification when an illegal alien received treatment at an emergency room, and left the bill for the taxpaying fool. I just hope the people in her district don’t ever figure it out. I know for sure that Kay Granger is not a member of the Immigration Reform Caucus despite that fact that virtually every Republican Congressman in Texas is. In my book Kay Granger is a Democrat.

Barney Frank

Great work Madame Pelosi and Barack Obama. Kay Granger just voted with all of us for HR 1424. This bailout bill not only “bails out” our campaign contributors, but most importantly it is the first major move that we have ever taken towards our ultimate goal of socialism. Do you realize that by our passage of this bill we can expand government exponentially, and even own banks, insurance companies, and automotive firms? Karl Marx would be proud of us however, he would be especially proud of Kay Bailey Hutchison, Arlen Specter, and Kay Granger as they have the people fooled into believing that they actually oppose us. All I can say is keep the corporate cash flowing into Kay Granger and other liberal Republican frauds, and all our goals will eventually be met.

Kay Granger

Of course I voted with my good friends Nancy Pelosi, Barney Frank, and Barack Obama. You didn’t expect me to vote like the other Texas Republican Congressmen like Hall, Barton, Sessions, Burgess, Poe, McCaul, Hensarling and Ron Paul did you? As long as I keep getting these massive corporate donations, I could care less about the tax paying fools in my district. So what if their hard earned money goes to “bailout” the likes of Goldman Sachs and many other large banks including foreign owned banks? My constituents are never going to know, mostly because the liberal media will never inform them. Got to run. One of my biggest donors (The American Bankers Association) is on the phone, I smell more campaign funds rolling in.

Sadly this is not a fictional cartoon, all of the facts presented are true, you can verify them for yourself. Thank Kay Granger for selling you and your family out by giving your tax dollars to filthy Wall Street Pigs (HR 1424). And while you are at it thank Kay Granger for taking the side of the illegal alien over the U.S. (Citizen HR 3722). Vote for Matthew E. Kelly in the Republican primary on March 2nd, 2010. Anyone over 18 is allowed to vote in the Republican Primary regardless if you are a Republican, Conservative, Independent, Libertarian or even a Democrat, you can vote in the Republican primary. Just call 1-800-252 VOTE (8683) or 512-463-5650 or visit them on line at sos.state.tx.us/elections to make certain you are registered. If you don’t vote, you have no right to complain about what sewer Kay Granger and Kay Bailey Hutchison are going throw your money down next.
